Glorious if True.

The news from Virginia and North Carolina reached us on Tuesday last, stating that there had been heavy fighting there. The rumor is that Gen. Lee has whipped Grant, killing and capturing 60,000 men, and capturing 600 wagons; Gen. A. P. Hill

Gen. Johnson has whipped Gen Sherman and killed and captured 25,000 men, and captured 80 pieces of Artillery. The fight occurred at Goldsborough, N. C. The news was brought by a gentleman coming thro' by way of Atlanta. We hope that it is true, but cannot vouch for the correctness of the report.

HEADQUARTERS OXFORD, ALA., April 17th, 1865.

ALL persons belonging to Hardie's Bat. Res. Cav., are hereby notified to meet at this place by the 25th inst.

By order of Col. E. E. Tansell,

ATTENTION ALL!

IN accordance with orders from Department Head Quarters, Army of Tenn., I have returned to Talladega for the purpose of gathering up all straggglers and absentees from the 31st Ala. Reg't. Accordingly all such are hereby ordered to report to me in person at Talladega, Ala., on Saturday, the 29th inst., prepared to take up the line of March for Smithfield, North Carolina. Those failing to report will be considered deserters, and treated as such.—Transportation will be furnished all who thus report; and I am authorized by the General Commanding to say to all such a full pardon will be granted. D. C. McCAINE,
Capt. Co. C, 30th Ala.

In youth we live in a paradise of roses, with silver fountains gleaming in the sun, gay song birds singing in each bough, bright spirits glancing through the air, with the earth through its varied beauties presenting a miniature view of Heaven. In manhood we stroll across a withered plain where the flowers lie scattered and strewn in the summer sun—the fountains are dry, the birds have ceased to sing, and the earth no longer seems with the beauty of a pristine Eden. In old age we totter through a wilderness of thorns in the "vanity and vexation of spirit," with the shadow of desolation resting on the past.

In death we pass through the valley and the shadow, yet just beyond reach are the Paradise of youth, where the roses bloom, the fountains gleam, the warblers sing, the seasons never change, the light never fade—and this is Heaven.

THE FOREIGN GUN.—The Montgomery correspondent of the Mobile Register speaking of a gun which has been invented in Montgomery, says: We have seen the process of loading and firing carried on by persons promiscuously picked up for the purpose, without any knowledge of the piece, or any previous drill, who were able to load and fire the fifteen barrels about four times per minute—thus sending sixty balls in that short space of time directly into the rank of the enemy. The barrels can so arranged as to scatter their fire, or concentrate it upon an advancing column, as may be deemed best.

☞ To prevent the escape of negroes, the Georgia Legislature, at the late session passed an act authorising the Governor to establish a line of mounted pickets of such number and at such points as he may deem sufficient for the purpose of preventing the escape of slaves to the enemy at Savannah, and to organise the men into a battalion of cavalry, to be composed of such as will mount and arm themselves.

MILITARY ORDERS.

MACON, GA., March 16, 1865.

The following orders have been received from "Headquarters Military Division of the West:"

"For the purpose of collecting and providing for the prompt restoration to their several regiments, battalions or companies all absentees from Lee's Stewart's and Cheatham's corps, the following measures will be taken without delay:

"1. Brig. Gen. Mackall, A. A. C. S. in audition to his other duties, is specially charged with the general supervision of the service involved—his headquarters being at Macon, Ga., and he will take all practicable steps to recall to their colors all who are absent from any other cause than actual disability for field service, or on properly granted furloughs. To this end he will establish camps at Columbus, Atlanta, Albany, Macon and Augusta, Ga.; Montgomery, Selma and Mobile, Ala.; and at Jackson, Macon and Columbus, Miss.; and such other points as may be found expedient, to which absentees living in the vicinities respectively shall be required to repair and report, and to which will be sent all those who may be collected by neighboring enrolling officers, who will be called on to give assistance under the regulations of the conscript bureau. He will also require all officers and men to repair to the nearest rendezvous appointed who may be absent by any authority less than that of these headquarters, or of the commander of the Department of Alabama, Mississippi and East Louisiana; in which case he will make a requisition for such absentees upon that commander, to whom he will send a copy of these orders with a request for the necessary orders to enable him to execute his duties within the limits of that command.

"2. All officers and men collected at the several rendezvous established these orders south and west of Montgomery, Ala., will be concentrated as soon as practicable at that place, and those brought together in Georgia will be assembled at Augusta."

* * * * * * *

1. In obedience to the above orders Major E. D. Willet, 40th Alabama rngiment, has been directed to take command of the rendezvous at Montgomery, Ala., to which place all officers who have been sent to collect absentees belonging to the three corps in Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama will send them in squads of ten or twenty, the number to depend upon the transportation from the centre of their field of operations, and the practicability of subsisting them at the point of assembly.

2 Camps of rendezvous will be established as early as practicable at the following points, viz: Columbus, Atlanta, Albany, Macon and Augusta, Ga.; Montgomery, Selma and Mobile, Ala., and at Jackson, Macon and Columbus, Miss. The officers and men collected in them will be forwarded, those reporting in Ala. to Montgomery, those in Miss. to Macon, those in Georgia to Augusta or Macon. Until these camps are established officers and men will report to the nearest post commanders or enrolling officers, who are requested to forword them as above directed.

3. The officers on duty under these orders will make a weekly report of the absentees collected, giving name, company, regiment and brigade, the time at which they report, and the place to which sent. The commanders of the rendezvous at Montgomery and Augusta will make a weekly report of the officers and men received during the week, and the strength of the camp at the date of report.

4. Post Commanders are requested to direct their Quartermasters and Commissaries to give all necessary supplies called for by officers engaged in this duty within the limits of their commands.

5. I am informed that the officers sent to me for this duty have been selected for their special fitness. It is therefore not necessary to urge upon them devotion to the service and earnestness in their endeavors to assist in bringing their old comrades back to their colors, but as the very nature of their service sends them to the vicinity of their homes, I may warn them of the danger of allowing themselves to lose one day in the enjoyment of home, which should be devoted to filling the ranks, by which homes are to be defended.

6. All officers and men returning are urged to bring in their arms, or any arms they may find in the country. They will the sooner be enabled to join their colors.

W. W MACKALL,
mar23-6t Brigadier General.

N. B.—All papers in Georgia, Ala. and Miss., are requested to copy for six times; those in Georgia will send their accounts to the Post Quartermaster at Macon; those in Alabama to the Post Quartermaster at Montgomery; and those in Mississippi to Post Quartermaster at Columbus for payment.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.,
March 23d, 1865. }

In pursuance of the above orders I have established a camp at Montgomery, Ala., on the old Fair Ground, near the West Point Depot. All the officers and men of the army of Tennessee and Miss will report to me at said camp; and all officers detailed for Mississippi and Alabama under Special Field Orders No. 12, dated "Headquarters, Military Division of the West," Charlotte, North Carolina, March 4th, 1865, will report to me their names, rank, regiment and brigade and post office, as well as make the reports and perform the duties specified in Brig. Gen. Mackall's orders above.

E. D. WILLETT,
Maj 40th Ala. Comd'g Rendezvous.

P S.—Papers of Alabama and Mississippi will copy the above and send bills to Post Quarters, as directed by Gen. Mackall.

E. D. WILLETT,

HEADQUAR'S CONFEDERATE ARMIES
February 9, 1865.

GENERAL ORDER No. 1.

In obedience to General Orders No. 1, Adjutant and Inspector General's Office, 6th February, I assume command of the military forces of the Confederate States. Deeply impressed with the difficulties and responsibilities of the position, and humbly invoking the aid of Almighty God, I rely for success upon the courage and fortitude of the army. Sustained by the patriotism and firmness of the people, I am confident that their united efforts, under the blessing of Heaven, will secure peace and independence.

The headquarters of the armies, to which special reports and communications must be addressed for the present, will be with the army of Northern Virginia.

Stated regular returns and reports from each army and department, will be forwarded as heretofore, to the office of the adjutant and inspector general.

Signed, R. E. LEE, General.

HEADQUARTERS,
Army of Confederate States.
February 14, 1865.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 2.

In entering upon the campaign now about to open, the General-in-Chief feels assured that the soldiers who have so long and so well borne the hardships and dangers of war, require no exhortation to respond to the calls of honor and duty.

With the liberty transmitted to them by their forefathers, they have inherited the spirit to defend it.

There is now no choice between war and abject submission before them

Such a proposal to brave men, with arms in their hands, can have but one answer.

They cannot barter manhood for peace, nor the sight of self-government for life or property.

Justice to them requires the sterner admonition to those who have abandoned their comrades in the hour of peril.

The last opportunity is afforded them to wipe out their disgrace and escape punishment for their crimes.

By authority of the Executive of the Confederate States a pardon is announced to such deserters and men unproperly absent, as shall return to the commands to which they belong within the shortest possible time, not exceeding twenty days from the publication of this order at the headquarters of the department in which they may be.

Those who may be prevented by interruption of communication, may report within the time specified to the nearest enrolling officer or other official on duty, to be forwarded as soon as practicable, and upon presenting a certificate from such officer showing a compliance with this requirement, he shall receive the pardon hereby offered.

Those who have deserted and taken service with the enemy, or who have deserted after having been once pardoned for the same offence, and those who shall thereafter desert, after the publication of this order, are excluded from its benefits; Nor does this offer of pardon extend to other offenses than those of desertion or absence without permission.

By the same authority it is also declared that no general amnesty will be again granted to those who refuse to accept the pardon now offered, or who shall hereafter desert or absent themselves without leave; but they shall suffer such punishment as the courts may impose, and no application for clemency will be entertained.

Taking new resolution from the fate which our enemies intend for us, let every man devote his energies for the common defence.

Our resources, wisely and vigorously employed, are ample; and with a brave Army, sustained by a determined and united people, success, with God's assistance, cannot be doubtful.

The advantages of the enemy will have but little value if we do not impair our resolution. Let us, then oppose constancy to adversity, fortitude to suffering, and courage to danger, with the firm assurance that He who gave wisdom to our fathers, will bless the efforts of their children to preserve it.

Signed, R. E LEE, General.

HEADQUARTERS,
Army of Confederate States.
February 14, 1865.

GENERAL ORDER No. 3.

The discipline and efficiency of the army have been greatly impaired by men leaving their proper commands and joining others, in which they find service more agreeable.

The practice, almost as pernicious in its consequences as the crime of desertion by the Articles of War, exposes the offender to similar punishment, and subjects the officer receiving him to dismissal from the army.

It is therefore declared that the provisions of General Order No. 2, of this date, from army headquarters, apply to such men as have left their proper commands and joined others, without being regularly transferred. They will receive the pardon promised in that order, upon complying with its conditions, and suffer the consequences attached by neglecting it.

The names of such absentees will be forthwith reported to these headquarters, by the officers with whom they are serving, and immediate measures taken to return them to their commands.

As soon as practicable an inspection will be made, and charges preferred against those who neglect to enforce this order.

(Signed) R. E. LEE, General.

Report to myself or Capt. DeArmian.

NEW DAILY PAPER IN RICHMOND.
PROSPECTUS.

THE undersigned propose to publish a daily paper, under the title of "THE RICHMOND HERALD," on or about the 15th of January next.

It will be entirely independent in politics, but will nevertheless accord to the administration a just support in all measures, which, in the opinion of its conductors, may be deemed promotive of the good of the cause in which we are engaged.—A proper criticism of such acts as will be deemed adverse to this object, will be, of course consistent with the independent character under which the paper is to be inaugurated.

In the matter of General News it will be found to keep pace with the leading journals of the day, while it will have added to it in the matter of financial intelligence a feature such as we venture to say, no paper in the Confederacy can boast of. Editorials from the pen of one of the ablest financial writers in this or any other country will be presented in each number.

For reasons not necessary to be enumerated, we forbear to give the names of those who shall compose the regular editorial staff, but we flatter ourselves when they shall appear they will be found to constitute such an army of talent as cannot be excelled on the continent.

The well known character of the individual whose name appears below, as a stenographic reporter furnishes, we presume, a guarantee that, in all that relates to important political speeches and debates, whether in legislative assemblies or out of them, the "HERALD" will present advantages certainly not to be excelled by any paper in the Confederacy.

The farming interests will be faithfully vindicated, and care taken to disseminate the earliest intelligence which a proper regard for the welfare of that great element of national wealth and power shall demand.

In the matter of correct commercial intelligence, equal zeal shall be manifested, our object being to assign to each of these departments an editor of known experience and ability.

Arrangements are on foot by which to secure the earliest foreign news and the paper will contain such editorial talent as will fully discuss the bearing of foreign diplomacy upon Southern interests.

In short, "THE RICHMOND HERALD," will be found to combine every feature of interest which the requirements of the present crisis demand.

The enterprise is respectfully commended to the favor and patronage of the citizens of the Southern Confederacy.

All the papers in the Confederacy will copy till day and send bill to
